INVISIBLE NO MORE

A stunning photographic portrayal of life experiences/

Invisible No More is a superb printed documentary with text and photography by renowned photographer Vincenzo Pietropaolo.

This book contains a foreword by celebrated Canadian author Wayne Johnston (The Colony of Unrequited Dreams) and an introductory essay by Catherine Frazee, Professor of Distinction in the Disability Studies Program at Ryerson University.

Invisible No More chronicles the journey of people with intellectual disabilities through their life experiences. Photographs in colour and black&white are interwoven with text and interviews that author Vincenzo Pietropaolo has conducted with people with intellectual disabilities and their families.

The book is moving and a "must-read" for those who are connected to the issues of community living and is sold for just $30 (plus shipping & handling).
